Who are all these people?

Who's Who on Tarth, A Treasure of Characters is a complete listing of the people and places that make up the Tarthian Empire. From the first book to the last, this treasure map of names includes books currently in print and previously published.

Long before I wrote my first book, I created ten thousand-plus years of future history. Why? Because I wanted to write a coherent series. This book of characters is taken from my research and story bible. It contains material I used to create the universe of my books. Included are secrets behind character names and insights into their stories.

Military and Ships

Some ships are in more than one book. This list is in alphabetical order by ship name.

Acheron Mneeth Tyran Sleepliner

C-1 Luc Saint-Cyr's private ship (this a designation only, as the ship is part of a fleet owned by Saint-Cyr)

Ceroman Hethen Tyran Sleepliner

Crossfire Luc Saint-Cyr's private ship, built on the Crossfire propulsion system (a misnomer to throw off rivals who seek to gain access to the technology)

Jalane All People's Liberation Army Ship (named for one of my beta readers and later editors)

Le Persequor Pietas ap Lorectic's ship (the name means the Persecutor)

Manc'eor Neth'e Tyran Sleepliner

Sanctuary Reborn Ship (Mahikos ap Lorectic's ship)

Usurper Imperial Armada Ship, used by Empress Destoiya

Vandal All People's Liberation Army Ship

Starport Locations

Kelthia Starhaven Leojnamij (The name Leojnamij is taken from the names of my sons backwards (Jamin, Joel). The repetition of the letter J fits the place where it exists (Miraj City).

Tarth Empire Central

Ezraki Stargrounds

Felidae Tahkee Ashnrrah ("House of Big Wings" in Ruh City) In the book For Women Only, the hero says the name makes it sound like a place to eat chicken.

Books Mentioned

NOTE: A few characters are listed who have not yet appeared by name in books. They are listed so that this section will jive with subsequent editions of this book should they be necessary.

This version refers to material in At the Mercy of Her Pleasure, For Women Only, Wulf, Tales of the Chosen, Alitus, Tales of books The Last Vhalgenn, Trailing Kaiwulf, and Human Perfect have brief mention, but take place outside the Empire.

Characters may be human, non-human, android, and animal. If they are named within a current or previously published book, the book is listed using the abbreviations listed below. This list was current at the time of publication, and is subject to change with subsequent books.

When a character is named for a real-world person, or their name holds some particular significance, I have noted it.

Abbreviations used in this book

The following is a list of abbreviations used in the character list. Only current or previously published books are listed, not future ones.

AB1=At the Mercy of Her Pleasure (Antonello Brothers 1)

AB2=For Women Only (Antonello Brothers 2)

*FMH=Forbid My Heart

*SL=Surrender Love

*TotcA=Alitus, Tales of the Chosen

*TotcJ=Jawk, Tales of the Chosen

*TotcW=Wulf, Tales of the Chosen

PGP = Preferred gender pronoun if non-gendered or different from gender

* Books previously in print - coming soon in new editions

*Totc = Tales of the Chosen - available only as a boxed set

How to Read this List

Izzorah claims to have sold the horse at least twice, to different people each time, prompting Luc to question the story

Book mentioned: SL, FMH

Name: Tiklaus

Gender: Male

Type of Being (Presumed): Panther

Relationship to Immortals (if any):

Role: Pet, companion

Function: Pietas ap Lorectic's pet. Referred to as a panther, Tiklaus is actually a black jaguar. His background color is a dark brown with small rosettes made of dark brown dots, with additional dots randomly appearing within the overall rosettes. He appears black. He is a protector and companion to the immortal. He hunts in water as well as trees and underbrush, and is a good swimmer. He is strong enough to drag an adult up a tree. A common rumor concerning him is that Tiklaus is a shapeshifter who is enslaved to Pietas. He is usually found in the throne room aboard Le Persequor, although he has accompanied Pietas on trips to various worlds. Sempervians view him as a protector, guardian, and companion to the immortal. He often eats in the throne room, and has been known to devour people. Fierce, quick to come between Pietas and anyone approaching him, he is docile around his master, and rests against Pietas's feet. Pietas hand-feeds him at times and has offered his blood-covered hand for the panther to lick.

Book mentioned: TotcA, TotcJ

Ultra (Sempervian - Immortal) Characters

Sempervians are Ultra-humans (immortals) created by humans. Isolated and imprisoned on the planet Sempervia, they survived for thousands of years. One group was so blood-thirsty and impossible to control that once the imprisoned Ultras could remove them from their midst, they exiled them to another planet in the Sempervian system. One hundred and one of these were later deemed too great a threat, were put into stasis, and set adrift in a ship bound for the edge of the galaxy. They escaped their stasis pods and commandeered the ship. They later adopted the name Sempervian to ensure humans would know who they were. Unknown to them, humans had lost track of the history of the Ultras and were unaware of the meaning.

NOTE: Characters designated as "Reborn" are immortals who were exiled to the planet Sempervia, but were never exiled from it.

Androids

Android Sentience - Definitions

Android sentience is argued by many in science fiction. Sentience is defined as "a state of elementary consciousness, the faculty through which the external world is apprehended, and the readiness to perceive sensations."

The following (in alphabetical order) are aspects of sentience.

Atonement - Sacrificial compensation for wrongdoing offered to victim, higher authority or deity.

Civilization - Formal or informal laws or traditions which govern group behavior.

Communication - Expression or articulation and transfer of information or concepts to those who do not share the same language.

Conscience - Understand right and wrong and form personal morality.

Imagination - Visualize beyond present knowledge and reality.

Independent Will - Exhibit behavior not influenced by external controls.

Justice - Recognition of a higher authority's standard of conduct and the use of that standard to determine guilt and punishment.

Self-Awareness - Consider effects of thoughts, personal nature and individual conduct.

Tools - Use of items other than personal extremities to accomplish an objective such as art, work, language or expression.

Use of and control of fire. - Use of some form of kinetic heat energy.

Worship - Recognition of and supplication to a spiritual presence, authority or deity.

In the Tarthian Empire, worship has not been directly observed in human-fleshed androids. Rumors of android worship centers are unsupported by evidence, but all other aspects have been observed. There are still holdouts where androids are concerned, and prejudice against giving them equal rights abounds.

Android - Definition

Definition of android:

Androids are human-shaped beings and have multiple functions and uses, chief of which is to interact with humans. Not all androids have sentience or free will.

Tarthian Empire androids generally have human-looking skin/hair or appearance. They are often referred to as droids. They sometimes refer to themselves as "iron" although little or no actual iron is found in their systems.

Bot - Definition

Bots are machines fabricated for specific jobs, such as security, transport, cleaning, etc. A hyphen is used to separate the function of the machine from the bot designation.

Examples; cleaner-bot, porter-bot, hover-bot, camera-bot

Exception: Copbot is a rank among android police, and is not hyphenated. Another exception is bagbot. In the Tarthian Empire, the term bagbot has been used so often and for so long that it is no longer hyphenated. Company names such as idBot and TicketBot are not hyphenated.

Android Referees in Peril

All referees are human-skinned androids and possess at least modified free will. They report to Uurah, the Chief enforcer of the referees. Android characters have only one name.

Name: Braun

Gender: Male

Type of Being (Presumed): Android

Relationship to Immortals (if any): Referee

Role: Assigned to Rheyn Destoiya (personal mission)

Function: Reports to Empress Destoiya, Searching for Zeri ap Lorectic, a child Changeling belonging to Destoiya

He is the only android that Pietas is prohibited from killing, and who can override Pietas's commands. He was created at the request of the other Sempervians, and the version of him seen in current books is not the first. He took a lot of tweaking. Any "upgrades" are overseen by McDoth and Prentice together.
